Dr Ivan Bristow

Ivan Bristow is a Podiatrist, working within the Faculty of Health Sciences, University of Southampton and is the Admissions Tutor for the BSc (Hons) Podiatry Programme. His clinical and academic expertise focusses on skin diseases of the foot. As an author and researcher he has presented his work globally and continues to investigate new treatments and technologies in the management of foot dermatoses and infections.

Val Edwards-Jones

Val has over forty years experience as a microbiologist. Her research areas include toxic shock syndrome, wound-care, diagnosis of infectious disease and rapid methods to identify microorganisms. She was Consultant Microbiologist on the TV show Embarrassing Bodies.

Paul Harradine

Paul Harradine is a clinical podiatrist and director of The Podiatry Centre Ltd. Paul is a doctoral student at the University of Southampton researching observational gait analysis. Paul has gained an MSc and CertEd working in both NHS clinical specialist posts and educational settings before becoming a full time private practitioner in 2003. He has published papers in podiatric, physiotherapy and orthopaedic texts on first ray function, plantar pressure analysis technology, taping, orthoses production and foot function theory amalgamation.

Dr Jean Mooney

Jean qualified as a Podiatrist/Chiroprapist in 1981 from the London Foot Hospital and School of Podiatric Medicine, and initially practiced in the NHS as a clinician / Service Manager, and established her private practice. In 1987 she moved to higher education, primarily teaching and lecturing on the Podiatry degree programmes at the University of Westminster, University College London, and the University of East London. Jean has been the consultant podiatrist to the Royal Hospital Chelsea since 2006.

Dr Paul Beeson

Paul is currently a Senior Lecturer in the School of Health in Northampton and supervises students at Masters and PhD level. His work at the Northampton School of Podiatry clinical campus involves the management of musculoskeletal lower limb problems.

Dave James

Dave James qualified from the Birmingham School of Podiatry in July 2007 with a First Class BSc Honours in Podiatry. Until January 2015, Dave worked in a local NHS podiatry service as a team leader, nail surgery lead and biomechanics lead. In 2010, as part of his NHS tenure, Dave led a team to win an innovation award for foot health education. He has recently completed a masters degree at Cardiff Metropolitan University, which has helped him to continue to update his skills and knowledge to provide the best evidenced-informed practice possible.
